

I have spent time in the transport industry as well as the waste industry, being responsible for training drivers.

I am an adult volunteer in the Australian Air League, being in charge of a squadron, in Doncaster, as well as the officer in charge of the AAL's education department in Victoria. Currently I am studying two diplomas within the organisation. A great deal of my work now involves organising events on a local and state level.

I have not had a role previously in RHS, but have decided to run for a position on school council, as I now have the time on my hands to play an active role. My hobbies include, but are not limited to aviation. I am more than capable of working in a team environment and adhering to strict time frames.

Ian Walkeden